1. University's Career Service Office

One of the biggest mistakes that most college students make is that they don't take advantage of the university's career service. Ideally, you should visit it from your first day but it is never too late to do something. This can help you to get a job or internship. Furthermore, it can increase your networks.

2. Get in the Good List of Your Professors or Lecturers

This doesn't mean that you need to take your professor for dinner or buy him/her gifts. You can be a good student in front of your professor's eyes by staying active and engage. In other words, make a good image in front of your professors or lecturer.

3. Create a Strong Network

Networking is very important. It not only helps you to carry out projects or to get an internship, sometimes you can get a job just by networking.

4. Experience is Must!

In your college life, your life will revolve around textbooks. However, the experience is more necessary than reading something in textbooks or the internet. Apply for internships, that will help you to increase your knowledge as well as experience. You can also ask your lab assistant to perform practical.

5. Internships

To increase your knowledge, you should do at least 2 internships in your college life. This doesn't only increase knowledge about specific subject but it also tells about the environment, interaction with people and many more.

6. Part-Time Job

Everything goes fine until you got your fee voucher. Now that doesn't mean you start finding jobs. Of course, you don't want to compromise your studies. That is why search for a part-time job which has a convenient time.

7. Join the Student Organization

In order to build leadership as well as teamworking skills, you need to join a student organization. There are no specific limits that which student organization to join. Join the one which suits you.

8. Volunteer in Events

Some extra certificates always show either the candidate is active or not. There will be many times when your university is conducting an event and it needs volunteers. You can always participate in it, who knows you got to learn something new?

9. Projects

If you want to make your CV interesting, considering doing a project with your professor. For that, you need to consult your professor. Projects are very important for a college student. At least, a college student should write a review paper.

10. Stay in Touch with Alumni's

Last but not least, if you want to be successful, stay in touch with your seniors. They can help you in many ways such as teaching, books, and even can help in finding a job.

Conclusion

Student life is the most amazing life that you will ever have. Every day when you woke up, you got to learn something new. Your last day will be different than your current day. Make sure you enjoy every moment of this life. There will be a hard time but always remember, after every night, the sun always shines up bright in the sky.
